Be safe and mindful this weekend and always when in the ocean

Dear QCBFD,

Yesterday afternoon with the strong current and undertow at the beach there was a near drowning by the line between Central and East Beach. Thankfully there were several adults who jumped into action and saved this young person's life (10 year old).

This is a reminder that the current and undertow can be extremely deceiving and dangerous.

The weather forecast for the holiday weekend is precarious- PLEASE do not send your children down to the beach unattended.

We also want to remind you that there is an AED life-saving backpack at the block AND at Central Beach tennis courts. The backpack at the block also contains a shark-bite kit and Narcan (for use of a drug-over-dose).

Please be safe this holiday weekend.
