Q10 Historically, the invasion of phragmites in West Pond has been a serious issue. Between 2007 and 2015 studies were commissioned and undertaken by highly reputable 3rd party professional biological and engineering experts to consider the best methods for mitigating the problem. In 2012 the Fire District applied to RI Coastal Resources Management Council (“CRMC”) for approval to mitigate the phragmites with treatment of glyphosate. While CRMC staff had “no objection” to the Council approving the project, separately the RI Department of Environmental Management (“DEM”) objected based on their concern that the treatment might contribute to elevated nitrate levels in nearby QCBCFD and QEBA well fields. DEM recommended a limited pilot project with ground water monitoring. Due to these conflicting views and other circumstances at the time, in September, 2014, QCBCFD requested that the application be tabled and it was subsequently cancelled by CRMC in June, 2015 due to inaction by the District. The question now is: should QCBCFD revisit this issue and possibly take measures to ameliorate the growing invasion of phragmites as described above?
